

ADDRESSES OF COUNSEL

IN THE KING MURDER TRIAL

Counsel for the Defence and Crown Prosecutor Sum up the Evidence—A Verdict may be reached Today.

The King trial was continued yesterday afternoon. C. W. Cross, counsel for the prisoner addressed the jury. His defense was a very creditable one indeed and was a masterly analysis of the evidence. He pointed out the dangers of convicting a man on circumstantial evidence and cited a number of cases in which innocent men were punished. He cited authorities to show that it was necessary to prove death as a result and criminal agency as a means before guilt was shown. This he claimed was not proven. Hayward was not shown to be dead and no one could prove King killed him. He quoted Justice Wetmore in a dissenting judgment to the effect that no evidence of Hayward's death or King killing him was submitted at the first trial. He related the story of Hayward and King outfitting as partners and going into the north country. He asked the jury if anybody could believe King so foolish as to kill a man by a settlement when it would have been so much easier to do it in the wilderness. The jury then heard evidence Dr. Primrose said was not while Hayward's was black. A body placed under a fire would be baked but not consumed and it was much easier to believe that Indians had killed Hayward and placed these pieces of flesh in the ashes of this fire afterwards.

He pointed out that Moostos named the heart, liver, etc., as they were brought out of the ruins, that he was able to go direct to the slough where the shoes and kettle were, that in fact he seemed to know all about the affair. Hayward must have had considerable money as he paid a boy $1 for rounding up his horses. Where did this money and his gold watch go to? These were the greatest motives for a crime. King was able to account for all the money he had. Alexander Moostos swore that he never had a watch and when confronted with a gold one admitted it had been his. Why did he deny having had a watch? Was this watch Hayward's? The Crown had made no effort to prove it was not. He emphasized the fact that there was no blood about the fire, on the outfit, or on King's clothes. This he claimed was evidence that the remains in the fire had been brought there.

When Moostos went for Sgt. Anderson it was about another matter and incidentally this affair came up and then things looked as though they had been arranged against Anderson's coming. He considered it strange that Mrs. Cardwell didn't smell the flesh burning and also if King was burning a human body in the fire was he likely to allow her to come so close to him while he carelessly cut wood. The woman said it was a wet day but no snow. Keanie said there was snow on the ground and the boy said it was a fine bright day. Were the jury going to convict on evidence of this kind? Why did this woman not come to the first trial if she knew so much, but as King was still alive she was here now and it was worthy of notice that she was Moostos' sister.

The articles tied in the clothes were such as an Indian would throw away having no use for them. The cloth was like nothing in King's or Hayward's outfit but was just such as an Indian would have. Moostos claimed to have found part of a tooth. Dr. Primrose said it was a piece of bone, but Moostos overrode it a little in this case. He cautioned the jury that the benefit of the doubt must be given the prisoner. A verdict of guilty meant the gallows and he asked them if the theory of an Indian killing Hayward was not as reasonable as that against King and on the same evidence. He asked them not to take King's life if they had any doubt whatever and he considered the evidence very doubtful.

CROWN PROSECUTOR SUMS UP CASE.

The court opened this morning with the address by Crown Prosecutor McDonald. In opening he asked the jury to judge the case upon the evidence adduced. He continued that circumstantial evidence was often more to be trusted than direct evidence. In direct evidence you had to depend upon the truthfulness of the witness but circumstances are usually facts of course he added that wrong deductions might be drawn from the circumstances. He read authorities to prove that it was not necessary to prove the death of the murdered man by production of his body. He said that the mass of evidence in the case to his mind amounted to the presumption that Hayward and King must have been killed by King and by no one else, though it did not amount to direct evidence that he did. In a criminal case the jury must be morally convinced that the prisoner did commit the crime.

In commenting on the evidence he pointed out that none of the witnesses knew either Hayward or King and could have no feelings or bias in favor or against either. He claimed that the small discrepancies in the evidence were a proof that it was not prepared story they were telling, but rather what they actually knew as they remembered it. The whole evidence showed clearly that the case was not made up as in many cases the evidence was only partly corroborative, if it had been prepared it would have been wholly so. In referring to the evidence of Sgt. Anderson he paid a compliment to the North West Mounted Police, and asked the jury to remember that this officer had nothing but justice in his mind in working up the case. He claimed it was conclusively proven that Hayward and King outfitting together and went into the north country. By evidence indisputable they were traced all the way to Lesser Slave Lake and to their camp on Sucker Creek. He then related the evidence given as to the disappearance of Hayward, the evidence of Mrs. Cardwell, which he held was conclusive that the body of Hayward was in the camp fire when she saw it. He pointed out that Hayward's boots, containing his gold scales, sovereign case and scarf pin were not thrown into the slough by himself, they must have been put there by other human agency, and there was not a little evidence to prove that they were put there by King, the motive being to cover his crime. The buttons, bones, etc., which were found in the fire go to prove that a man was burned in the fire. The evidence all went to prove that the man who was burned was Hayward and the man who burned him was King. He dwelt a little length upon the false statements made by King in explanation of Hayward's disappearance.

The possession of Hayward's entire outfit by King he regarded as particularly damaging. He claimed that the theory of the counsel for the defense that Hayward had been murdered by the Indians was perhaps possible but was not at all probable. If that had been so, why had King not given information to that effect to the police. This theory was a matter of imagination. In conclusion he reminded the jury that their duty was a simple one if they had a reasonable conviction of the prisoner's guilt, then their duty was to bring in a verdict of guilty. Nothing in the evidence went to show King's innocence or the guilt of any one else. He asked them to yield themselves to the sympathy if there was no reasonable doubt in favor of the prisoner, that their duty was clear, if however they honestly believed him not guilty their duty was to acquit him. The court then adjourned until 1:30 p.m. when Mr. Justice Scott delivered his charge to the jury. A verdict will probably be reached this afternoon or evening.

PARLIAMENT

During the debate on the immigration estimates on Monday of last week, Mr. Oliver spoke as follows, (from Hansard).

MR. WILSON OPPOSES ANY IMMIGRATION POLICY.

Mr. Oliver.—In regard to the general remark that the expenditure is very large, and that it is increasing, that is certainly something to be considered carefully and to be justified by the results. The position taken by the honorable member is that inasmuch as the United States does not assist immigration, Canada should not do so.

Mr. Ulrich Wilson—I did not just say that, but you may put it that way if you like.

Mr. Oliver.—What I understood from the honorable gentleman was that inasmuch as the United States did not solicit immigration, it was a questionable policy for Canada to do so. But as a matter of fact, immigrants have come into the United States by the million while the population of Canada practically stood still so far as the influx of new population was concerned. For a generation or two, while our population was increasing by thousands, theirs was increasing by the million. Not only were we not getting immigration but we were losing our own people to the United States, and this condition continued many years after we had the Northwest opened up by railway communication. While therefore there was no necessity for the United States to solicit immigrants since they were coming in without solicitation, the reverse was the case in this country, and we had to exert ourselves to secure new population to settle our waste lands or we would be permanently left behind in the race.

ACTIVE IMMIGRATION POLICY FOUND NECESSARY.

The reverse of the policy advocated by the honorable gentleman was therefore adopted. The policy of securing immigration was entered upon vigorously with the most happy result. True the expenditures have been large, but the results have been more than proportionate. From a material point of view, they have been eminently satisfactory. The mere fact, therefore, that our expenditure on immigration is increasing is not necessarily an evidence of unwise policy of administration. As long as the results of that expenditure are satisfactory, there is no particular ground for condemnation. Of course it is none the less necessary that the expenditures should be carefully looked after, of course money should not be wasted, and every criticism that will tend towards a better direction or a reduction of the expenditures without lessening the result will certainly be welcome. With regard to the criticism as to the large amount of the vote in bulk, while a vote in bulk has its objectionable side, it has also a very useful side. The immigration service is one which, in the nature of things, cannot be absolutely controlled. If, for one reason or another there should come a special stream of immigration or a special urgency should arise, in a certain direction, it is absolutely necessary that the urgency should be met at once, and when we vote the amount in bulk the funds are available anywhere within the limits of that vote, as they would not be if the vote were confined to a number of different items. We can get a better service for less money so long as the money is properly handled, by giving a vote in bulk than by subdividing it. So far there has not been any great objection to the handling of money in that way. I fancy that every expenditure on immigration has met with probably as little objection from the Auditor-General as any expenditure in any of the other branches of the government. So long as we do not mis-handle the money, it is a very great advantage to the department to have this money voted in bulk.

AN ACTIVE POLICY WILL BE CONTINUED.

Mr. Ulrich Wilson.—What other changes are there in the policy of the department in the last three years?

Mr. Oliver.—I cannot say that I know of any. Our policy is of course to secure as many desirable immigrants as possible with as little expenditure as possible. Of course as conditions change there will have to be changes in our system to meet them, but there has been no change in our general policy from the start to the finish. That policy has been to get as many settlers as possible with as little expenditure as possible.

As to the form of the vote, I may say that these sums have been divided for purposes of statement to the House, so that, I think, we shall be able to answer any questions that may arise quite as well as if the division were made in the estimates. And this form of vote does not prevent us from increasing one expenditure and decreasing another, as the urgency of the case requires. If money is voted for a certain service, and even if a balance remains unexpended, no part of the vote can be used for another service, no matter how badly it may be needed. But this difficulty has been avoided in the past, the result being actual economy in the service.

IMMIGRATION MUSE BE INDUCED

With regard to my own view and with regard to questions of policy, I have nothing whatever to take back of what I said on the occasion referred to by the honorable member for Jacques Cartier (Mr. Monk). I have always looked upon the question of immigration as one of the most important that the country had to deal with. There is no doubt that immigration brings problems of more or less difficulty to the part of the country affected, and I think now, as I thought before, that it is not wise to shut our eyes to these problems. At the same time, we all recognize the necessity of encouraging immigration. As I said, the policy of the government has been to induce immigration, and as far as I am concerned, the policy of the government will be to induce immigration. I think it has never been a part of the settled policy of the government to induce indiscriminate immigration, and it will not be the policy of the government to induce indiscriminate immigration or to deal with immigration indiscriminately.

"WE WANT THE PEOPLE."

As I said a few minutes ago, changed conditions will require to be met by changed methods. It is impossible for me, having only recently entered the department, and not having had an opportunity to familiarize myself with this matter, to say at the present time what may be done, in one regard more than in being done, or what may be done in another regard less than is being done. I think my honorable friends will not be so unfair as to demand such a statement from me at this time. To put the case shortly, my view is, as it always has been, that the country requires a vigorous immigration policy, and that this policy should be acted upon with due regard to the ultimate effect upon our country of the people whom we induce to settle in it, and that while no money is too much to spend to secure an immigration of the right kind of people, any money is too much to spend on immigration of the wrong kind. I do not think there is any disagreement between the two sides of the House, or between any two members of the House on that point. We are all agreed in that respect, and it is only of question of how best to carry out that policy. On the one hand we want the people, we want them quickly, and we want as many of them as we can get; on the other hand we want to secure as desirable a class as possible, and the effort of the department will be to attain both objects as far as possible.

COST OF CANADIAN SERVICE.

There is required $102,230 for the service in Canada, $51,530 for the United States, $19,770 for Great Britain, $3,700 for the continent. There is an increase of $20,000 over last year. This is to pay the salaries of several new appointments, some increases of salaries, and to pay the salaries of several officials whose services in the past have been paid from the vote for contingencies and general expenses: that is to say, we are meeting to a certain extent the criticism of the honorable member made in the beginning that a certain amount, $7,500, which was formerly paid out of the lump sum of contingencies is now paid out of this specific sum voted for salaries.

The new appointments, salaries, amount to $12,986.25, an increase of $1,600. There was transferred from the general vote, $7500, that makes a total of $21,486.25 and there is a decrease of $1,500, making a net increase of $19,986. The new appointments are as follows: Dr. A. C. Hawkins, medical officer, Halifax, $1,000,

Dr. J. C. Howe, medical officer, Quebec, $1,000, Dr. A. Polvin, medical officer, Quebec, $1,000, and Dr. A. T. Stewart, medical officer, Montreal, $1,000, making $4,000 for medical inspection at ports of landing rendered necessary by the increased stringency of the efforts which are being made to prevent the landing of undesirable persons. The duty of the Montreal officer is to inspect people who come to Montreal through New York and Boston.

Over 100,000 of these machines have been sold in the U.S. within the last few years at the same price which is being charged for any other standard typewriter. This proves conclusively that the OLIVER is the very best machine made regardless of price.

As there is now in Montreal a factory devoted exclusively to the manufacture of this machine, it can be bought in Canada for the same price at which it is sold in the U.S. without adding from $25 to $30 to cover duty and charges, as do all the other standard writers.

This should be a very attractive proposition to any purchaser of writing machines.

PARLIAMENT.

DIFFICULT TO SECURE TENANT FARMERS.

Mr. Lake—Although I realize that the class of immigrants from the United States is a very good class, still I think it would be better to put forth greater efforts in the mother country. I do not think any class could equal the small tenant class, the men who work their own farms in the mother country. We are not getting enough of them. If a larger amount were spent to get that particular class, we could get better results than we do from the United States.

Mr. Oliver—The efforts of the Department in the past have been, as they will be in the future, very strongly directed toward the object the honorable gentleman mentions. But the difficulty in securing the immigration of tenant farmers from the old country is that they are wanted in the old country just as much as they are wanted here. I can assure him that no effort will be spared, but they are a class of people very conservative in their habits, if not in their politics, and will require to be attacked apparently from as yet an undiscovered point in order to secure them.

LOCATING SETTLERS.

A team is necessary for the travelling of a person who is looking for land, and he gets the benefit of the transportation by means of the team as well as of the services of the land guide in finding the lines and looking them up in his location. It seems to me a very satisfactory method of dealing with the question. I have heard no complaints either as to hardship towards intending settlers or dissatisfaction on their part. Any one who has ever had occasion to go out to look for land in a new country will know that is of the very greatest advantage to the new pioneer who does not understand the lines and stakes or the lay of the land to have an experienced and reliable man with him.

THE "FARM LABOR" PROBLEM.

A suggestion made by the honorable member for Prince Edward is an instance of what I alluded to a little while ago, the necessity of amending the immigration policy from time to time to meet new demands and new conditions. The present immigration policy of the Government was instituted for the sole purpose of filling up the North West and I think it has had a fair measure of success. I do not think it was ever suggested that an effort should be made for the Dominion immigration authorities to deal with the problem of farm help in the province of Ontario, but it is generally recognized that there is now a greater requirement in that direction, and that the Dominion Immigration Department is now a proper means for attempting to meet that demand. The plan outlined strikes me as being very commendable, especially in view of the success which has been attained, and I assure the committee that I shall be very glad to consider the project laid down by the honorable member, and while not promising a change of policy, yet if anything can be shown which will indicate an improvement, I shall be only too ready to accept the suggestion and act upon it.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

It is hoped by the increased stringency of the medical inspection at the ocean ports to put the shipping companies dealing with Canada in the same position as those bringing immigrants to the United States. When an immigrant is detained in Canada for medical reasons the shipping company has to pay the expenses of the treatment, and, if the immigrant is deported, the expenses of the deportation. By the increased stringency of the regulations and their stricter enforcement the burden on the companies will be increased as it has been in the United States and they will be just as careful about bringing immigrants to Canada as they are about bringing them to the United States.

Mr. Ulrich Wilson. The United States is contemplating putting a medical man in each port where the immigrants come from and having a rigid examination there.

Mr. Oliver. Possibly we may do the same, but for the present the object which the honorable member has in view is the same as the government have in view. The means he suggests are being taken up to a certain point and if found insufficient will be extended along the same lines.

Decreased Expenditure.

During the debate on the estimates in the House of Commons last week an item was brought down for $175,000 for the Government of the Yukon Territory. Mr. Oliver explained that this was a decrease of $60,000 from the amount voted last year. The present estimate, is made up as follows:—

Salaries.....$85,040
Living allowances.....51,000
Travelling expenses to and from Dawson.....12,000
Printing and stationery.....8,000
Fuel.....6,000
Freight express and cartage.....5,000
Telegrams and telephone service.....3,000
Commissions of five per cent to the North West Mounted Police officers on collections, postage and miscellaneous expenses.....4,960
Total.....$175,000

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

IN CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Brief Items from many sources tell the story of the day's events.

MORE TROUBLE FOR RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—The wave of disorder sweeping over Russia has broken out in Odessa, where a general strike accompanied by rioting and bloodshed has occurred. Much firing has happened. The number of injured is not known yet. The total estimate of the dead at Loda is 500. A band of Socialists were surprised by Cossacks who fired on them. Several were killed, eighteen were wounded and one hundred and eighty arrested.

OSCAR MAY LOSE TWO CROWNS.

Stockholm, June 28.—Both houses of the Riksdag were in session yesterday. The tenor of the speeches was unmistakably for war. The Norwegians are showing great hatred of Sweden. A peaceful solution of the difficulty is extremely improbable. It is said King Oscar will lose two crowns instead of one.

BALL GAMES.

Winnipeg, June 28.—Yesterday's scores: Duluth 9, Winnipeg 3, first game; Winnipeg 5, Duluth 1, second game; Fargo 2, Superior 1; Grand Forks 7, Crookston 0.

RUSSIA HEARS STARTLING RUMORS.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—A rumor has spread throughout the city that General Kuropatkin has been killed. The rumor was connected with a report that 70,000 Russians had been cut off by General Nogi, and that Kuropatkin had been taken a prisoner, mortally wounded. Nothing confirmatory has been received.

WINNIPEG THEATRE SCARE

Winnipeg, June 28.—The usual vaudeville performance at the New Dominion theatre was concluding last evening when with startling suddenness a series of loud explosions were heard in the gallery and intense excitement reigned in the pit. Flames leaped freely to the roof and a scene of a great theatre holocaust sprang to the eyes of the six hundred people present and for a time hideous pandemonium occurred. There was a wild rush for the exits. Women screamed and fainted and several fell to the floor and were trampled on. Men under uncontrollable fear jumped over two seats at a time and white faced little children expressed the fear that possessed them. In the front of the house spectators glashed through the orchestra, smashed the instruments and jumped on and injured the drummer. It appears that the kindled stage flames caught fire and the machine blew up with a series of terrifying explosions which frightened the audience. The fire was suppressed and beyond injuries to a few the affair quieted almost as quickly as it started. It is remarkable that more were not injured. The incident caused a sensation throughout the city and a big crowd gathered in the vicinity of the house.

THE CITY COUNCIL

HELD ADJOURNED MEETING.

The License Problem Comes Up Again—New Public Works to be Undertaken.

The city council met in adjourned session last evening. Mayor MacKenzie being absent, Ald. May presided. Ald. McLeod, Clark, Fraser, Boyle, Picard and Bellamy being also present.

REAL ESTATE LICENSES.

The question of real estate licenses came up and was discussed at some length. Ald. Boyle thought a license involved the idea of protection and was opposed to the system on that ground. He urged that both licenses and floor space tax could not be collected from the real estate men and wanted to know which the commissioners thought of collecting.

Ald. Clark thought it might be necessary to collect licenses in the case of real estate dealers having no offices.

Ald. Picard favored a business tax and a floor space tax, with no licenses.

No action was taken in the matter as it will come up again in connection with the assessment.

WANTED A CHARTER.

Messrs. Hobson and Hostyn appeared and asked the council for a charter for the operation of their freight hoist on the hill at First street. They wished the matter closed as early as possible that no time might be lost in starting operations. The commissioners were instructed to have the city solicitor prepare an agreement to be submitted to the council for approval, on the ratification of which the charter will be granted.

WANT GAMBLING PREVENTED.

A petition was read asking the commissioners to instruct the police to allow no gambling on the grounds during the fair. The council left the matter in the hands of the commissioners.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Petitions were read for the construction of the following public improvements:

Six foot sidewalk along the east side of Ninth street from Victoria avenue to Jasper.

Grading Fifteenth street from McKay to Jasper.

Grading Jasper avenue extension from Boundary to Government avenue.

Six foot sidewalk along same street, on both sides of the street.

Six foot sidewalk along Gallagher street, from First street to Boundary avenue.

Six foot sidewalk along the west side of Fraser street, from Sixth street, R. L. 10 to First street.

Six foot sidewalk along the west side Fifth street, between Jasper and Victoria.

Grading Victoria avenue from Eleventh to Sixteenth streets.

The petitions were granted.

The commissioners reported the construction of a 12 foot sidewalk along the north and south sides of the market square. Adopted.

The commissioners reported that the intention of the council to reconstruct certain sidewalks had been advertised as required. The list comprises the walks on Victoria avenue, first, fourth, sixth, Tenth, twelfth and McKay avenue. The work was ordered done.

The commissioners were instructed to take the necessary steps to advertise the intention to continue the walk on McKay avenue to Tenth street.

WATER EXTENSION.

The public works commissioner reported that the eight inch sewer on first street, not being large enough to receive a main from Columbia avenue, it would be impossible to provide the Alberta Mining Co. with sewer connection until the new system is constructed for the drainage of the northern portion of the city. The water main could be continued to the premises for about $1200.

The report was adopted, the main to be put in as soon as possible after the signing of the agreement between the company and the city. The company were given permission to lay a temporary surface pipe for the supply of water for building purposes.

WANTED A GRANT.

Mr. Page, of the Western Canada Immigration association, addressed the council, wanting a further grant of $400 to the funds of the association. He was referred to the board of trade the council pointing out that they had passed the appropriation for the year in the hands of the board for expenditure.

LIVERY MEN COMPLAIN.

A committee of liverymen waited on the council and pressed for protection in return for the license they were asked to pay. It was pointed out that the license was on feed stables, not livery stables, and the commissioners were instructed to take no action to collect licenses pending the assessment of premises according to the charter.

GOOD CROPS AT ISLAND LAKE

Island Lake, June 8.—Things are booming here, along the route of the railway. Crops are looking fine and there are indications of a good yield. One of the best fields of oats in this district is to be seen on the farm of Mr. William H. Gould, who has 35 acres in crop. Mr. Gould came from Manitoba to Edmonton in the spring of 1903, staying in that city for one year (and starting without any means: has in less than one year taken up his homestead and promises to be one of our leading farmers. This will show what our country is and what can be achieved by anyone who is willing to work. We are having plenty of rain.

The steel on the railroad is expected here by the end of July and should reach Edmonton in October.

Settlers are pouring in. Two hundred and thirty immigrants arrived here this week at Lloydminster and most of the available homesteads are taken up.

There will be plenty of work for a threshing outfit here this fall.

THE OPERA.

The Russian Comic Opera Company began a five night's engagement in the Thistle Rink last night, with the presentation of El Capitán. A very good house greeted the performers and if applause is a mark of appreciation then the audience was well satisfied with their evening's entertainment. The opera is bright, breezy and entertaining. Claud Amuden as El Capitán, made a decided hit, and his laughable efforts to extricate himself from difficult circumstances convulsed the audience. The specialties were most entertaining, and were well designed to please. Mr. Frank Waters has a splendid voice and was accorded a splendid reception. Miss Hazel Davenport, by her vivacity, captured the audience and had several recalls. Every part was well performed. The bevy of pretty girls handsomely costumed, make a chorus that should ensure full houses all this week. Tonight the company present the Mikado, Thursday evening Brimine, Friday they repeat El Capitán, and on Saturday evening they present The Telephone Girl.

—The city schools closed today.

—Edmonton's big fair starts tomorrow.

—Edmonton and Red Deer play ball on the ball grounds tonight.

—City stores close at 12 noon each day of the fair, re-opening at 6 p.m. on Saturday evening only.

—The Stony Plain picnic, which was postponed from the 27th will be held on July 1.

—Departmental examinations begin in the high school building here on Monday next.

—C. Ross Palmer will remove from the Bulletin office to rooms over the post office.

—There will be no choir practice in McDougall church this week on account of Mr. Weisman's piano recital on Friday evening.

—Revillon Brothers have a unique window in their retail store. The big double window is transformed into the lawn at the race meet. Promenading on the real lawn are a couple of society belles. The idea is appropriate and well executed.

—A Mewashin correspondent writes the Bulletin that a meeting for the discussion of political affairs will be held at Inga on July 5, at 6 p.m. under the auspices of the Liberal Association, also a meeting at Spruce Grove on July 8, at 5 p.m.

—Mr. Frank Weisman, the eminent pianist of Toronto, will arrive by this afternoon's train to conduct musical examinations in connection with the Toronto College of Music. He will give a piano recital Friday evening in McDougall church. There will be no admission fee. A silver collection will be taken to defray expenses.

—Lacombe Globe: The rumor has been circulated to some extent recently that W. F. Puffer the Liberal nominee for this Electoral District, was about to withdraw and not contest for the seat in the Local House in the coming elections. In an interview he authorizes the Globe to state that he has no intention to withdraw from the contest and that he will vigorously contest for the seat and if receiving the confidence of the district by being elected that he will discharge the duties involved in the position of representative to the very best of his ability. We all know that Mr. Puffer is an old settler in this district, and he knows by practical experience what we need most and where we need it. We may also state that his interests are not tied up in one little corner of the constituency, but extend from north to south and east to west, and the best interests of the people would be his goal, first last and at all times.

NEW HOSPITAL SITE

The public hospital board has decided to accept an offer made by the Hudson's Bay Company to sell the western end of the unsurveyed portion of the Hudson's Bay Company lands on Saskatchewan avenue, for a hospital site. This piece of land comprises about one and a half acres, having 425 feet frontage, on Saskatchewan avenue at the end of block 16 with a depth of 200 feet and is equivalent to eight lots. This will make one of the finest sites in the city. The ratification of the sale by the Hudson's Bay Company officials in England is all that is required to close the sale and it is expected that it is as good as made now. When it is finally settled, plans will be prepared for the erection of a hospital to accommodate about forty patients.

BALL GAME TO-NIGHT.

The Red Deer baseball team will play the Edmonton team on the local grounds this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. The Red Deer team played at Wetaskiwin last evening, being defeated by 2 to 0, and as Wetaskiwin defeated the local team last week in a ten innings contest with a score of 2 to 3, the game tonight should be a close contest.

SMOKER.

The Imperial Service Medal Association will hold a smoker in Unity Hall, Sandison Block, Edmonton, on Thursday, June 29th at 9 p.m. It is expected that all Imperial Service men will unite to make a pleasant, successful evening. All singers please bring your music.

THE CAPITAL CLAUSE

DEBATED IN THE HOUSE

McCarthy of Calgary Opposes Edmonton being made the Provincial Capital.

Ottawa, June 28.—J. Obed Smith, commissioner of immigration, Winnipeg, waited on Hon. Clifford Sifton last evening, and presented him on behalf of the staffs of the immigration, lands and timber branches in the West with three solid silver salvers. All the Alberta autonomy bill is now passed except the educational clauses 2 and 16. There was some discussion over the clause making Edmonton the provincial capital. McCarthy of Calgary opposed it and Oliver and Scott showed that it was centrally located, would be a great railway centre and that the northern half had five thousand more population than the southern.
